The brochure is laid flat, revealing four modern house designs arranged in a 2x2 grid. Each house is presented in a large, rounded rectangular frame with a thin black border. The houses feature various architectural styles, including one with a prominent overhanging roof and another with a more minimalist design. The background of the brochure is white, and there are faint, semi-transparent watermarks of the house designs scattered across the pages. At the bottom of each page, there is a small line of text that reads "© JabenConstruct And Building Design Services All Rights Reserved".
